- Making sure staff are trained, know how to respond to concerns, who to report these concerns to and keep up to date with policy and practice
- Children and young adults are made aware about staying safe both in and out of college, as well as online
- Maintaining an environment where children feel confident to approach a member of staff if they have a worry or a problem.

Should a staff member encounter a situation where there are indicators of abuse or a student feels comfortable to disclose details of abuse, the following things are to be adhered to by;

Always:

- Report on as soon as you have a concern
- Record information accurately using the actual words and language of the child and noting any questions raised by the child
- Note dates, times, who was present and anything factual about the meeting and child's appearance
- Pass these notes confidentially to the designated safeguarding leads.

Never:

- Ask leading questions
- As the staff member investigate the situation, this is the purpose of a safeguarding lead
- Take photographs of marks
- Make any arrangements for the student (medical or other)
